Red Canyon, Gateway to Scenic Byway 12

Red Canyon is the western gateway to Scenic Byway 12. Visitors can follow the 124 miles of Utah's first All-American Road through stunning red rock landscapes of high plateaus and deep canyons, driving through the remains of ancient seabeds as well as alpine forests and sagebrush flats.

Small Town Charm

Rural communities along the route offer small-town charms and showcase Utah's historic past. This is a classic journey through the rugged and remote terrain of the American Southwest.

Please plan carefully and consult a map. Cell phone access is limited. Do not rely solely on GPS navigation: units programmed to provide the most direct route may lead you into the backcountry.
